Alumni's

You can apply if it was no later than three years ago when you graduated from advanced level at the School of Business, Economics and Law.

The scholarship can be applied for individually or in groups.

What's required to apply?

The Scholarship aims to inspire those who have already showed some concern about our climate and wants to go to further actions. Therefore, any of these Statements may match your background:

For instance:

- You have carried out analyses in an academic work and suggested further studies, research, or some activity within climate-smart, or sustainable initiatives and now want to take next step.

Or, if that doesn't match:

- You may already have been involved in projects or events that provided activities for climate-smart initiatives. For example, business ideas, business models, services, or engagement in such activities for an organization.

Or you might:

- In connection with a course have been involved in an organization's activities, products, services or markets in a climate friendly way.

If none of above statements match your background:

- You perhaps, due to your work or in private engagements, inspired others to act in a climate positive way.

Any of these statements might touch examples of what you been involved in already. In the application you will attach documents that describes your initiatives and refers to information about your work, commitment, etc.

If nothing above seems to match your experience, please describe your earlier engagements thoroughly. What it was about and where to find information about it.

What the application needs to include.

- i. What/Who your previous commitment or initiative was intended for/to.
- ii. How it contributes to solutions that are positive for the climate.
- iii. Who performed the initiative.
- iv. What action, or initiatives you would like to perform if you will be the holder of the scholarship.
- v. Name, contact details, and personal description of the applicant or applicants, as well as your CV:s and a newly taken photo of you.
- vi. Year of examination and from which Master at the School of Business, Economics and Law.

The names of all applicants must be stated in the application. The scholarship is divided equally between the applicants.

Please note that an applicant fellow must personally act in continued active commitment and concrete activities regarding your climate solution.

When & How to apply.

Follow the instruction above or in the application form. We look forward to your application! Don't hesitate. You may become the 2022 scholarship holder of 50.000 SEK. Your contribution make difference!

We need your application no later than April 30.

What we need to secure in your application.

A complete application according to the text above, received by the latest application date.

The Scholarship management - at the School of Business, Economics and Law - reserves the right to carry out a selection of applications to the Cornelius-Ernströmgruppen Climate Scholarship committee.

If projects/initiatives have taken place in collaboration with Partner companies, fellow students/alumni etc., statements from these might be considered.

An application that is deemed incomplete, or supplementary documents that have been received after the end of the application period, is not valid.

The selection of applications, or the rejection of the application and the committee's decision on the selection of the scholarship cannot be appealed.

The Scholarship administration team.

The Scholarship is administrated by the head of the one-year master program Matix, in cooperation with the head of Graduate School.

The work is carried out on a non-profit basis. The scholarship was introduced to Matix by Handelshögskolans* Dean, Per Cramér, as an appeal that we all need to contribute with commitment and initiative for a sustainable climate. *The School of Business Economics and Law at Gothenburg university
